A Taste of Autumn

including Apple Day

At RHS Gardens during October 2006

Held in conjunction with the Northern Fruit Group

Over 200 varieties of apple will be on show, featuring those grown in the 16th century, through to modern day introductions. Apple varieties grown at Harlow Carr and in northern England will enable visitors to gain a clear picture of apple growing across the northern region. The display continues until 12 noon on 26 October.

Get free advice from the Northern Fruit Group on selecting, growing and maintaining apple trees. For families there will be a children's quiz, along with themed games, activities and apple tasting. Apple produce and apple-related books are for sale in the Shop, plus apple trees available in the Plant Centre. All making this a fun weekend for everyone.

Throughout the weekend

- Apple identification
- Children's themed activities
- Guided walk through the fruit garden
- A range of apple products available from the Gift Shop, Book Shop and Plant Centre

Open: 10am – 6pm (last admission to the garden 5pm)

Wrap up warm and explore the hidden delights of our four RHS Gardens with special offers for the Winter season only.

Three of our gardens are having two for one entry for paying visitors from 1 November 2006 – 31 January 2007

RHS Garden Wisley, Surrey (2 for 1 offer)

Wisley is awash with colour in the low winter sunlight with hundreds of plants bringing beauty as well as the hidden surprise of perfume in this magical garden. Visitors can also enjoy a free mince pie in December and Free slice of Cake in January with every Tea or Coffee purchased.

RHS Garden Hyde Hall, Essex (2 for 1 offer)

During the winter RHS Garden Hyde Hall takes on a whole new identity with winter flowers, fruits and foliage brightening even the dullest days. The architectural beauty of the Dry Garden is magical at this time of year, particularly when dusted with frost, and is one of many areas of the Garden enjoying magnificent views over the estate and rolling countryside beyond.

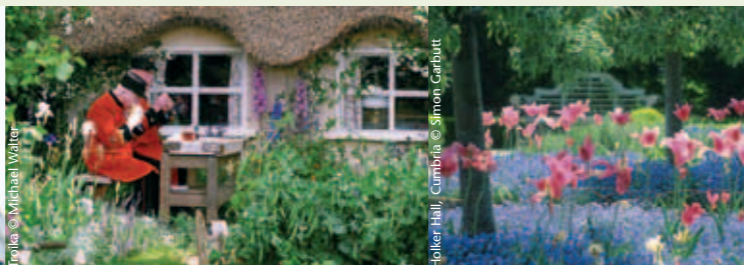

RHS Garden Harlow Carr, N. Yorkshire (2 for 1 offer)

Harlow Carr demonstrates how a wide variety of plants can survive successfully in winter. Across the garden there will be a glorious display of berries, flowers and fragrance – showing there's plenty of interest even in the darkest months of the year.

RHS Garden Rosemoor, Devon

Rosemoor has much to offer the winter visitor with a wealth of well-established planting in the Winter Garden. The Foliage Garden is also a winter treat with luscious evergreens and many structural plants. Enjoy a free cup of tea or coffee on presentation of a Winter Wonders voucher*

* Available on publicity from 15 October 2006

A Taste of Autumn

including Apple Day

RHS Garden Wisley, Surrey
20 – 23 October

RHS Garden Rosemoor, Devon
15 October

RHS Garden Hyde Hall, Essex
21 – 22 October

In October the Royal Horticultural Society invites you to celebrate the very best of the season at their four gardens around the country.

A Taste of Autumn will be held over four days at RHS Garden Wisley where visitors will be able to see spectacular displays of edible goods produced locally and at Wisley, including Apples, honey and cheese. Autumnal apple events will also be taking place at the other three RHS Gardens in October. There will be displays of 100's of apple varieties, including some grown in the 16th century and in the northern region at RHS Harlow Carr in North Yorkshire, expert apple identification, grafting and pruning advice at RHS Hyde Hall in Essex and apple pressing at RHS Garden Rosemoor in Devon.

Celebrate the arrival of autumn this year with our annual popular event, A Taste of Autumn including Apple Days. Experience a variety of local autumnal produce including cider, cheese, wine and bread. See stunning fruit and vegetable displays by the Wisley Fruit and Vegetable garden teams.

Throughout the event

- Fruit and vegetable tasting and produce for sale
- Apple identification
- Autumn craft activities and Pumpkin carving for children
- Talks and Demonstrations – including Good Housekeeping's Deputy Cookery Editor, pruning and propagation techniques from RHS gardeners and recipe suggestions from RHS Caterers.
- Chinese Vegetable Carving
- Horticultural Advice from RHS Advisory Staff
- Guided walks around the Wisley Fruit Field
- Spectacular apple display made from Wisley apples
- 21 & 22 October – Wisley Plant Centre will be providing apple tasting and children's activities, apple advice and a huge range of apple trees for sale or to order.
